About Conference :

India, with its rich cultural heritage and complex social fabric, has witnessed rapid transformation in its social institutions over the decades. The evolution of key institutions such as family, education, caste, religion, governance, and economy have had profound impacts on the nation's progress. However, these transformations come with their own set of issues and challenges, ranging from inequality and social justice to the effects of globalization and modernity. This conference aims to explore the transformation of these social institutions, examining the multifaceted nature of the changes, the challenges they present, and the potential remedies to ensure a more equitable and progressive society.

Call for Papers :

We invite scholars, practitioners, and policymakers to submit their papers and presentations addressing the transformation of social institutions in India. Original unpublished and plagiarism free research papers are invited for presentation and publication. Paper presentation is available in offline and hybrid mode. Those participants who want to present their paper in hybrid mode please inform us.
